I wonder why cats purr...

Cats purr when they are well-fed or happy. When they are sick or in pain, they have a special purr. There is legend about how a cat got its purr. It is French tale. A beautiful prince had to spin 10,000 balls of linen in only a month, or her prince would die! She had three clever cats; they spun the fiber into thread for her on spinning wheels. Their hard work saved the prince! The cats were honoured at the wedding feast. They curled up and began humming- just like spinning wheels. The purr was a gift to them for helping the princess. That's why cats purr.

I wonder why dogs wag their tails...

Dogs wag their when they are happy, exited, mad or angry. They also wag their tails when they want to go in, go out, or just want to play with you. They might wag their tails to wave at you, or maybe they want a bone. I wonder what would happen if they wagged their tails very swiftly- would they fly high into the sky.
