

Kids question and answers-worksheets

I wonder why some people wear green on St. Patrick's Day...

St. Patrick's Day is an Irish holiday. The Irish believe in a legend that says there are 40 shades of green in Ireland's landscape, where shamrocks grow wild and stay green all year long. They wear green to show they are Irish and believe in the legend.

I wonder why the great wall of China was built...

In the 200s B.C., the Emperor shih Huangti had the wall built for protection from nomad warriors. The bottom of the wall is about 25 feet high and over 1,500 miles long.

I wonder what marbles are made of...

Marbles are made of glass. Along time ago, they were made from clay or stone.

