

Kids question and answers- worksheets

I wonder why polar bears are white...

Polar bears are white so they can hide easily in the snow.

I wonder why hamsters store food in their cheeks...

Hamster's stores food in their cheeks so they will have something to eat during the night. They also store food when they sleep through the winter.

I wonder how insects breathe...

Insects have breathing pores or holes above and below their stomachs. They breathe in air through their breathing pores, which are called spiracles.

