I wonder why fire stations used to have Dalmatians...

In the old days, fire fighters used horse-drawn carriages. Dalmatians walked next to the horses to make sure they stayed in line and went straight.

I wonder why there can't be peace in the world...

Why can't all the people in the world get along? I guess it is because people believe in things that other people disagree with. People fight for things they believe in. But instead of talking things over all they do is fight. The world would be a better place if people would try to get along with one another.

I wonder how flying squirrels fly...

Flying squirrels can't really fly. They glide. Instead of wings, they have a piece of furry skin stretched between each front and back leg. This skin acts as a parachute when they go from tree to tree.
