I wonder why we use flags...

Flags were invented to represent states and countries. Flags are important in battle. Armies watched for flags to see where the enemies soldiers were. Flags also show you which way the wind is blowing.

I wonder why prairie dogs are called prairie dogs...

Scientists say that prairie dogs are really in the squirrel family. When early pioneers heard a prairie dog yelp, they thought it sounded like a dog. That's why prairie dogs are called prairie dogs. But i think they should be called "prairie squirrels".

I wonder why i have to go to bed early...

Different people need different amount of sleep. Newborn babies' need a lot of sleep o help them grow. Older people need less sleep. My baby sister needs more sleep than I do, but I need more than my dad. When I get older and bigger, I won't have to go to bed so early because my body won't need as much sleep and rest to grow.
