

Kids question and answers-worksheets

I wonder why cats have tails...

Cats have tails to help them keep balance. When a cat falls, it swings its tail and twists its body so it will land on its feet.

I wonder how the Great Lakes formed...

Thousands of years ago, glaciers covered the northern parts of North America. The glaciers dug out lots of earth and rock. When the glaciers melted with during the Ice Age, these deep holes became filled with water.

I wonder why frogs don't have ears...

Frogs don't have ears that stick out of their heads. They have eardrums that are big circles behind the frog's eyes. Sound from the air or water causes the eardrum to vibrate. Then the frog a hear.

